

What Do I Tell Them? - Narrative.

Someone at work asked me why my faith in God was so strong. I had had such a horrible week and felt so down that my answer was one of denying having strong faith and did not feel very faithful at all at that time.

I later realized what an awful answer that was. It was a perfect opportunity to testify. So I prayed and repented though admitting to God that even if I had the opportunity again, I just didn't have anything to testify about. Seemed at that time everything was going wrong and God was not there.

The next Sunday I went to a new church. The pastor spoke to me after the service and asked me how I was saved. I told him how and he said in response "What a testimony". He asked me several more questions about what God had done in my life and with my every answer he said "What a testimony". He seemed genuinely amazed.

I went home and admitted to the Lord that I was wrong and I had a lot to testify about. Right then, this song just popped into my head. I easily wrote the entire song down.
