

Narrative – Don't You Feel

I was raised in a household that never spoke of God or went to church. I married and raised my children the same way.

While my children were in their teens, a miracle happened – I was saved. After about four years of getting to know and serve the Lord, I came to realize how much I had missed out on for far too long.

I was thinking of my unsaved family, friends, and co-workers. I felt sad for them since they didn't know what they were missing.

I wrote this song for them and anyone else who doesn't know the Lord. I don't want anyone to miss out.
